Workshop on Co-production

Co-production is where people work together as equal partners, with shared power and shared responsibility. Often we think our organisation is working in co-production but how effective are we really in doing this? This training will explore what co-production means, how it can benefit organisations and how we can really use co-production to provide the best possible service for the people who use our services.

- What does Co-production mean to your organisation?
- What challenges do you face?
- Do the decisions you make truly involve the people those decisions will impact? Can you do better?

Interested?

We can offer co-production training to groups of up to 20 people, either online or face to face. Our training is co-produced and delivered by our Experts with lived experience.

If you are interested in booking one of our Co-production courses, please email
